INTRODUCTION

In this, the second listing, there are many additions. Many of the errors in the first edition have been corrected, and more history has been added.

This is still not to be considered a complete listing of the Trade Tokens of Saskatchewan. In a number of instances only one or two tokens are listed under the merchant and it is safe to assume that other denominations were issued. However, unless they have been seen by myself or one of the contributors, they are not included. Numerous other tokens have been reported but they have not been included and will not be until they have been viewed.

Histories of the businesses and the tokens have been obtained by searching directories, telephone books, newspapers of that era, and by talking to old-timers in the area. However, their memories, in many instances, brought forth many conflicting stories and dates but when used in conjunction with the directories, I feel that the dates and facts are close enough to the truth to be acceptable to even the most discriminating historian.

Many pieces of wooden money have been issued but no effort has been made to include these in this listing as these pieces have been adequately covered by E. DiBella and Larry Gingras.

As the search is continuing for other tokens and their histories I would be pleased to hear from anyone who can supply further information on any token in this listing or on a token that is not included herein.

Many thanks to the Fellows of the Canadian Numismatic Research Society who have greatly assisted in compiling this list. Special thanks to Doug Ferguson, Don Stewart, Ron Greene, Fred Bowman, Larry Gingras and Ken Palmer.

Grateful acknowledgement also to Martin Watts, Vernon, B.C. Frank Harding, Laura; Roy Miller and Hans Zoell, Regina; Hazelle Childs, Perdue; Anne Saville, Ravenscrag; Mac Provick, Hazelcliffe.

All tokens are numbered with a suffix 'S' for Saskatchewan.

The first number will designate the town as shown on a previous page.

The second will be a letter; 'A' will be the first in a series 'B' the second, etc.

The third set will be to show the denomination:-

1000 = $10.00	M = milk; MP = pint of milk
500 = $ 5.00	MQ = quart of milk
200 = $ 2.00	B = bread, with number of loaves to follow as B1, B2.
100 = $ 1.00	S = good for one shave
50 = 50¢	W = good for pail of water
25 = 25¢	D = good for a drink at the bar
10 = 10¢	K = miscellaneous
5 = 5¢
2 = 2½¢
1 = 1¢

The letters and numbers following the description of the token, give the particulars of that token.

The first column shows the metal -:

A = aluminum	P = plastic
B = brass	T = tin
C = copper	W = white metal

The second column shows the shape of the token -:

O = octagonal	S = square
Ov = oval	T = triangular
R = round	Sc = scalloped with number of scallops shown, Sc9, etc.
Re = rectangular

The third column shows the size in millimeters.

It is most difficult to state the rarity of these tokens with 100% accuracy but a rarity guide is included to serve as a guide only. Subsequent searching will no doubt bring to light more tokens of some of the series and change the rating but at the time of printing is based on what knowledge I have of the tokens reported to me and what I have seen.

Rarity is shown on the far right of the listing , as R1 etc.

R10 - only one known

R9 - 2 known

R8 - 3 to 5 known

R7 - 6 to 10

R6 - 11 to 20

R5 - 21 to 30

R4 - 31 to 40

R1 - still in use.

SASKATCHEWAN

Many moons ago, a bronzed young Cree gazed with wonder upon a mighty and turbulent river, and turning to his companion said, "Kis-is-ska-tche-wan"-their term for fast flowing. Although the country through which this stream runs has experienced many changes the name remained and now the river and the adjacent regions are called Saskatchewan - a word that continues to echo, in the soft Indian tongue, the movement of eddying waters over the prairies of Western Canada.

The Indian tribes of the Chipewyans, the Blackfoot and the Cree ruled the woods and the parkland areas of this territory. On the prairie roamed the tribe of the Assiniboine. Blessed with a game heavy land, unchallenged in his possession of this portion of the continent, the Indian reigned supreme. This began to end in 1670 when, in England, King Charles II granted a charter to the Hudson's Bay Company. This gave the company sole trading rights and land holding powers in the vast unexplored North-West. In 1690, Henry Kelsey, a veteran employee of the Hudson's Bay Company, became the first man to set foot in this territory that proved rich in fur bearing animals.

Innumerable outposts were built along the waterways of the Churchill and Saskatchewan Rivers and their tributaries. This period gave birth to the Metis nation, half caste sons and daughters of the traders and their Indian mates. Raised around the forts, combining the resourcefulness of the white and the cunning of the red, they became the best hunters and guides in the territories.

For nearly a century the Hudson's Bay Company ruled this territory and in 1870 surrendered its control to the Canadian Government in exchange for a sum of cash and a large grant of land. People were needed to settle this bountiful but empty land, and in 1872 the Canadian Government offered free homesteads to settlers. Pioneers from all over the world came to this new land to settle. As more settlers continued to come to this new promised land, it was found there was a need for a law enforcing agency, so in 1875 the North West Mounted Police arrived.

The 1880's saw the first transcontinental railway span this new land and along its path sprang up many settlements. From these early communities originated Saskatchewan's first trade tokens, in the absence of Hudson's Bay Company pieces such as the 'made beaver tokens' which might otherwise have served the outposts there. First at Moosomin, Moose Jaw, Manor and Maple Creek, private tokens appeared to meet the commercial needs of our early settlers.

By 1882 the community picturesquely called 'Pile-o'-bones' (after more durable remains of the thousands of bison slaughtered in the vicinity) had been named Regina, in honor of Queen Victoria. As the Canadian North-West came under a Lieutenant-Governor after 1872, the new centre presented itself as the logical capital for this particular Territory, then known as Assiniboia; consequently, in 1883, the Government moved from Battleford to Regina.

The dominance of ever-growing numbers of white settlers provoked both the Metis and Indians to armed rebellion in 1885, under the leadership of Louis Riel. The fires of their unrest brought tidings of these rich lands far afield, so that soon after the Rebellion, further settlers streamed in - first along the railway line, but later spreading out on both sides. As we have indicated, it was from these railway centres that the region's first trade tokens were issued. Some of the tokens were intended to satisfy the need for small change in the community, others originated with merchants who feared that those small settlements just starting along the trail might take away much of their business; to avoid such an outcome, they issued tokens and paid any balance due the customer in these, knowing that he would have to return if he wished full value for his tokens.

Saskatchewan entered Confederation in 1905 and the new province was comprised of a portion of the North-West Territories and the two administrative districts, Saskatchewan and Assiniboia. As no attempt was made to provide an official provincial currency, the tokens that were issued by the many merchants served as the only medium of exchange in numerous areas.

Administrative predecessor to the Saskatchewan of today was the North-West Territories - shown here as of 1883. Territories comprised four districts - Athabasca and Alberta; Saskatchewan and Assiniboia.

Around 1914 the Battleford Mental Hospital issued crude tokens for use in their bakery. These tokens were clipped or chiseled out of a sheet of copper. They were mostly in a rectangular shape and apparently no pattern was used as the tokens vary in size from 25mm x 12mm to 38mm x 22mm. They were stamped by hand with individual letters on one side only. There is also a round variety, 25mm, but here it appears that a pattern was used as the several specimens viewed are all the same size.

In the early 1920's more tokens were issued and these were also made at the Hospital. However, this time it appears that a pattern was used on all the tokens and the cutting was done by a machine. They were hand stamped and on some of the tokens the bar in the A is missing. Later more tokens were needed but this time they were ordered from a manufacturer. All tokens were discontinued in 1925 when the bakery ceased to supply outside needs. No record as to the disposition of the remaining tokens.

Seth and Tom Witton arrived in the Bethune district in 1907 and took out a homestead each. In June of 1908 Seth purchased the Donaldson Grocery. On Hallowe'en, 1912, Seth Witton fired a shotgun at some pranksters, one of whom had to have numerous pellets removed from his posterior. As a result of this incident, very few of the community would deal at his store so in the spring of 1913 he sold out to G.R. Winterstein. Shortly after he gave up his homestead and returned to the United States.

Tokens were issued around 1920 to facilitate the egg and butter trade, and were used until 1936. In 1950 the store was sold to J. Kinzel and Mr. Wilson retired. The round set of tokens were issued first and in 1923 they were replaced by the scalloped set due to rumors that the round tokens were a contravention of the currency act.

Sinclair Whittaker started a general store in Briercrest shortly after the railroad went through in 1912. In 1916 due to the shortage of change tokens were issued. In 1923 there was some controversy about the use of round tokens that were the same size as the coinage of the realm. So to avoid any trouble, the round tokens were taken out of circulation and replaced with the octagon set. These tokens were used until 1942. The bread token was issued in 1932 as a convenience in making change and was used until 1939. When the business was sold, Mr. Whittaker gathered up all the tokens and kept them until recently when he sold the majority of them.

Adam Roy Colquhoun came over from Glasgow, Scotland in 1893 to work for the C.P.R. at Donald, B.C. Not wanting to work on Sunday he quit shortly afterwards and started a small store at Broadview. He convinced his son, John, to join him and start trading with the Indians right in the Reserves. Learning to speak Cree, John found that more wagons were needed to assist in the trade so in 1896 Alex McLeod was hired to cart supplies to the reserves. In 1907 a large 60 x 80 - 2 storey brick building was built in Broadview. Tokens were issued on the opening of the store. The store burnt down in 1927 and as very little insurance was carried only a small building was rebuilt. Tokens were issued in denominations of $5.00, $1.00, 50¢, 25¢, 10¢ and 5¢ and it is believed that a $10.00 token was also issued. All tokens on hand were destroyed in the fire.

On selling his business in Girvin in 1924, Sylvester Moulton purchased a general store in Delisle. Having used tokens to good advantage in Girvin, he decided to issue tokens for use in his new store. The new tokens were in the smaller denominations only as he had a number of the other denominations left over from the Girvin store. He was going to counterstamp the tokens with D S to designate the Delisle store. However, as no counterstamped tokens have been found and the Delisle tokens are all uncirculated, it is presumed that Mr. Moulton changed his mind about using the tokens. These tokens were produced as part of an entertainment program for several groups of guests, the International Minerals & Chemical Corporation (Canada) Limited brought in during the opening period of the mine in 1962. Guests were treated to an old-fashioned 'night in a mining camp complete with saloon and gambling hall'. Following the evening banquet, guests were each supplied with 100 'K-BUCKS', which they used to play the various wheels and games that were provided in the Big K Gambling Emporium. Those fortunate enough to win, could turn their 'K-BUCKS' in for a variety of Hudson's Bay Company merchandise that was 'on sale' in the Big K Store. Only 'K-BUCKS' could be used for playing the games and for purchasing merchandise. These tokens were used on three separate occasions, each one, the visit of a special invited group to the minesite.

John Claxton, of Barrie, Ontario; purchased the general store in Grenfell from J.W. Jones in 1906. A son, A.T. Claxton, operated the business for a year and then two other sons, E.T. and J.W. Junior came west and entered into partnership with their brother. The brothers purchased the store at Windthorst in 1908 and later one at Corning in 1920. Both of these stores were sold in 1932. Tokens were issued in 1918 and were in use until 1935 when the store in Grenfell burnt down. The store was rebuilt on the same location but no effort was made to use tokens again, all tokens on hand were destroyed in the fire.

steaded at Gretna, Manitoba and in 1890 started a general store in the community. In 1911 he sold the Gretna Store and purchased a small store at Hague as numerous relatives had homesteaded in that area. Issued tokens in 1912 with an issue of 100 of each denomination (the 1890 on the token is the date he first went into business in Canada). In 1919 he purchased the Kehler Store, his main opposition, and with the increased business found that more 10¢ and 5¢ tokens were needed.

In 1917 they sold this outlet and moved to Hague where they opened a general store and hardware. Tokens were issued the same year with an issue of 100 in each denomination. For some reason, Mr. Schellenberg Sr. ordered the 1 in the $1.00 token to be placed on backwards. These tokens were used until 1925 when the store was sold to J.A.Friesen & Sons.

On selling their hardware and general store to Friesen's, Schellenberg's opened the first (so they claim) groceteria in Canada. The groceteria idea proved quite popular so in 1927 they sold this store to Friesen's and moved to Saskatoon where they started up a wholesale and retail store under the same name as they retained that registered name. As they had been using tokens before and sold tokens with the store to Friesen's they now ordered a new set for use in a different metal so that there would be no question of ownership. However, before the tokens were received, they had decided to sell the store so the order was cancelled. Mr. Schellenberg claims that they did not receive the tokens but several have appeared in that area. All tokens viewed are uncirculated so the tokens could have come direct from the manufacturer.

Hanley being a new site on the C.N.R. main line from Regina to Saskatoon had all the requisites of growing to a large centre, so in 1909 a group of men in the community formed a company. In June of 1910, the Consumers Supply Company opened for business with MacBeth Malcolm as President. Right from the start this venture ran into difficulties and when the store burnt down in January of 1912, many accusations were made which only widened the rift between the partners. It seems that very little insurance was carried and there was no effort made to rebuild. No one remembers the tokens being in use but the business was only in operation a short time and several tokens have been found on the site of the store as nothing has been built on that location.

In 1915 the Western Canada Supply was formed by a partnership of four Farmers, with George Buhler as manager. Tokens were issued in 1920 with an issue of 100 on each of the aluminum and 50 each for the two brass. There was considerable dissension between the partners as to how the business should be managed, as a result the business dropped off so much that in 1925 the company was in dire straits and tried to sell the entire operation. Mr. B. J. Miller, who was in business across the street, made an offer which was finally accepted. He purchased the building, stock and other assets but would assume none of the liabilities. There were many tokens still in the possession of the customers so Miller elected to still use the tokens until they could all be withdrawn from circulation without any loss to anyone. At this time he counterstamped all tokens in the store with M I L L E R on the obverse of the token. Any token that was brought in for redemption after this date was counterstamped on the reverse with M I L L E R and these were to be charged to the amount still owing the former company. A time limit had been decided upon for the redemption of the tokens as Miller did not wish to use the tokens otherwise. At this time all tokens must be accounted for and those missing were charged against the former company. Note that on all the 25¢ tokens the N is missing in Western.

The four Zacharias brothers; Martin, John, Henry and Cornelius, started a small flour mill at Herbert in 1914. The demand for their product was good and in 1915 they expanded the capacity of the mill and added a general store. Tokens were issued in 1916 to be used for the balance of trade from the farmer's delivery of wheat to what they had taken from the store and the milled products. In 1920, for no apparent reason, the business was sold to Mr. Loepky and the brothers departed to Texas.

Mr. Skeel came directly to Lajord from Ontario to open up the store so it hardly seems possible that there could be two W.H. Skeele's in business, so it is quite reasonable to assume that there was an error on the token, instead of Lajord it was stamped Myord. He was charging 5¢ per game and would give the winner one of these tokens which could be used at the tables or in the confectionery. The tokens did not bring the desired result and after only two months of use they were withdrawn. The original tokens were not holed but later in the confectionery the token was used for a quart of milk and at this time a small hole was drilled in the centre so that the tokens could be hung on a wire. The tokens gradually dissappeared and no effort was made to replenish the stock.

At this time he started a flour mill in Manor which had a capacity of 50 barrells per day. Tokens were issued in 1900 in an effort to bring all his trade to the main store in Manor. These two tokens are listed in Breton's catalogue of 1894 with the following information, 'the first token (B930), on this there are two mistakes, the initials of the issuer should be J.H.F. instead of I.H.F. and the letters N.W.S. for North West Settlement should be N.W.T. for North West Territory. These checks were used for a time in the hotel, the balance remaining, 75, were purchased by Mr. F.R.E. Campeau of Ottawa. The second token (B931), J.H. Fleming used these checks, which have his own initials and those of the territory correct, much more than the former ones. Consequently there were only twenty remaining when the lot was sold to Mr. Campeau of Ottawa.' Matt Fleming, son of John Fleming, states that to the best of his knowledge these tokens were never used in the hotel at all. None of the old-timers in the area, and I interviewed seven regarding these tokens, could remember the tokens being used. It is quite possible that these tokens were never actually used and this may account for the condition of the existing tokens, as all the tokens I have seen or received reports on, are uncirculated or extremely fine condition. Richard Bogue started a store in the thriving town of Moose Jaw in 1883 and in several years was a wholesale and retail grocer, dealer in hardwares, stoves, tinwares, paints and oils. If it was obtainable, Bogue's had it. Due to the large amount of business conducted and the scarcity of change in the community, Bogue's issued tokens in 1894. These tokens were widely accepted and circulated as freely as coinage of the realm. Bogue's Money, as it was called, was used till around 1914 when the several banks could supply the demands for coinage. The tokens were withdrawn and apparently destroyed as there are very few tokens known today and according to all reports the tokens were at one time in abundance. The business continued until 1924 when it ceased operations and later the building was sold to another merchant.

Andy Whyte arrived in Moosomin in 1889 and seeing the potential of the area, went back east and made arrangements for financing a departmental store. As a result the Whyte & Company started business in the fall of 1890 as a general store with plans to build a large departmental store in the near future. However, the business did not expand as expected and the store was sold in 1910 to J. Burgoyne. McColl lists these tokens in his listing and states that 105 were struck in aluminum of each denomination of $1.00, 50¢, 25¢, 10¢ and 5¢, 5 each in brass, copper and white metal. At the present time it appears that the tokens in aluminum are scarcer than the others and have not seen a $1.00 token in aluminum but a $2.00 is known. It appears that tokens were issued around 1893 and were still in use when the store was sold but no record as to what happened to the tokens at this time.

F.G. Planchot was one of the early pioneers in the district and in 1918 started the general store, being an astute business man, his business prospered so that in the late 1920's he owned a grocery store, poolroom, confectionery, bowling alley, dance hall and theatre. Punnichy was located near an Indian Reserve and during the depression of the 1930's, the Indians, like every one else, were short of money. However, they had access to large tracts of poplar which they cut down to make pickets for fences. The merchants of Punnichy and other surrounding towns bought these pickets from the Indians for 3¢ each, but Planchot had these tokens made and would give the seller a token for each picket or if he preferred the 3¢ as the other merchants were doing. Needless to say he obtained the majority of the business as the Indians preferred the tokens, they had to spend the money for groceries or pleasure and most of their wants could be supplied by Planchot's. Ordered 1000 of these tokens and used them until 1937 when he discontinued their use. Mr. Planchot states that he destroyed all the tokens in his possession at this time and did not keep even one for himself. Later several were turned in at the store and these constitute the only known tokens left.

The Assiniboia Club was formed in 1882 by a group of business men as a social group, but later its object was to supply a recreational center for the business executive. In 1950, after renovating their premises on Victoria Avenue, they found themselves constantly short of change in the billiard room, so tokens were ordered and placed in use. A game of billiards cost 20¢ and a game of 'pea pool' cost 5¢, payable in tokens only. Tokens were used until 1954 and then discontinued. At the next audit of the books all tokens were ordered destroyed.

These tokens appear with a number stamped under Regina on the obverse and one old-timer thought that these were issued to people so they could buy their liquor wholesale. He remembered having one but could not remember whether the token was given to him or he had to pay to become a member. The phone directories show Earnest Foret at 1706 Scarth Street on March 1912, wholesale liquor vendor. In May 1914 it lists the warehouse on South Railway and no mention at all in the December issue 1916.

George Blaxall was in the oil delivering business when the depression hit the West. At this time the Regina Relief Department issued vouchers to recipients of relief, for heating and cooking 'good for 8 gallons'. On delivering coal oil to these customers the vouchers were collected and tokens were given for the amount not taken. The first token was issued in 1931 and paper tickets 'good for two gallons' were also used. In 1935 more tokens were needed so the second token was ordered and placed in use. These tokens were scarcely used as the demand for coal oil had slackened. The business was sold in 1946 and Mr. Blaxall could not remember what happened to the tokens on hand at this time.

Tokens were used until 1925 when the Canadian large 5¢ piece was in ample supply for his needs. Tokens were gathered up and stored away and only recently were they found. In 1905, William Ralph and his brother-in-law, Charles Holmes, bought 40 acres of land south of the newly laid C.P.R. tracks. Here they built a store and a hotel, hauling the material from Moose Jaw, 14 miles away; so as to be ready for the opening of the proposed station of Tuxford. However, they had not consulted the C.P.R. before their venture, but were informed that the proposed site of the town was north of the tracks and unless they purchased lots within the site, no stop was to be made near there. The partners were forced to purchase lots on the north side of the tracks and in 1906 moved the store to the new location. This satisfied the C.P.R. and the hotel was not moved but was converted into a community hall and used as such until 1912. Early in 1907 the partnership dissolved when Holmes moved to Marquis and started his own store. Later in the year, Robert Black, an ex-policeman from Ontario, bought into the business. Tokens were issued shortly after and were used until 1915 when Ralph sold out to Black. He continued the business until 1920 when he sold to the present owners, McBride's. A number of old-timers remember the tokens and state that other denominations were used.

Neil McKinnon, a general merchant who started in business in 1883 in Ontario, came to Weyburn in 1901 and in 1902 built a modest one storey building for his general store. In 1905 it was necessary to enlarge the building, but this proved inadequate as business continued to grow and in 1912 the building was too small for his needs. At this time a three storey building was built, costing $100,000.00, being equipped with freight and passenger elevators. When stocked and ready for opening day, it was known as the finest department store west of Winnipeg. The token was issued in 1923, the 40th anniversary of being in business, picture of the actual store is on the token. These tokens were widely distributed but when they were returned to the store they were destroyed. The business was sold in 1932.

Sam Lowes came from Orilla, Ontario to Moosomin in 1911 and worked for a small bakery. In 1912 he left and started a bakery in Weyburn, which seems rather surprising as he was not a baker and at no time did he do any of the baking, it was all done by hired staff. He supplied bread and pastry not only to Weyburn, but to many of the outlying communities. Tokens were issued around 1920 when Mr. Lowes had two horse-drawn bakery rigs supplying the town of Weyburn. Tokens were issued for ease in making change. Tokens were used until 1932 when delivery of bread was discontinued. In March, 1967, the Star Bakery ceased operations after serving Weyburn and district for 55 years. At the age of 84 Mr. Lowes felt that it was time to retire.

Four farmers in the district formed a partnership in 1908 for the purpose of starting a general store. They had grandiose plans for this new company and for several years the business flourished, with Charles Thorson as President. In 1916 dissension arose among the partners which could not be amicably settled and as a result the partnership was dissolved and the business just abandoned. Apparently tokens were only used for a short period and no one could remember what happened to the tokens on hand at the termination of the business.

Henry Nickel purchased the premises of the defunct International Mercantile Company and started a general store in 1918. As his customers were used to tokens, he felt compelled to use them so tokens were issued in 1919. As he had an aversion to using tokens they were used very sparingly and in 1923 he withdrew them from circulation. Mr. Nickel claims to have destroyed all tokens, except one set, before he sold the business.

The small settlement of Sleipnir (named after the Horse of Oden) was started in 1904, close to Big Quill Lake. Mr. Halldorson built a store here in 1906 and was general merchant and postmaster. In 1907 the Canadian Pacific Railway put through a new rail line south of the settlement and the site for the town was 3 miles south west of Sleipnir. Seeing that the rail would not be going through Sleipnir, Halldorson moved his building to the new siding, Wynyard, in February of 1908. Ten teams of oxen were used to move the building and it was the first store in Wynyard. Tokens were issued in 1909 and were discontinued in 1914 when the business was sold.

The Hudson's Bay Company opened their trading post at Yorkton in October of 1898 in response to a petition from the settlers of the area. The Company rented a small store, in one-half of which a limited business was conducted. However, in 1900 it became necessary for the Company to occupy the entire premises. Business continued to grow and in the fall of 1903 the building was purchased and enlarged. The files of the H.B.C. make no mention of tokens being in use at any time for this outlet and to date have been unable to find out any further information on their use.

Levi Beck started with a grocery store in 1895 but being quite an entrepreneur, soon started to expand and shortly had branch stores in Sheho and Willowbunch, as well as a grocery, harness, implements, butcher shop, bakery, confectionery and lumber yard in Yorkton. Around 1920 he found that he had expanded too fast to consolidate his position and now being unable to handle everything properly, started to sell off his holding, in most cases at a loss. Due to financial difficulties, so I am told, ceased operations completely in 1930. Tokens were issued around 1908 and were used until the early 1920's. At one time they were in abundance but when it was seen that the business was closing most of the tokens were cashed in.
